Online telemedicine systems are useful due to the possibility of timely and efficient healthcare services. These systems are based on advanced wireless and wearable sensor technologies. The rapid growth in technology has remarkably enhanced the scope of remote health monitoring systems. In this paper, a real-time heart monitoring system is developed considering the cost, ease of application ...

There are a wealth of sensors available on the market today to sense acceleration, vibration, tilt and shock. Accelerometers are capable of measuring all of these phenomena. As a result they are commonly used in applications such as wearable health monitors (movement), platform stabilisation systems (tilt), airbag crash detection systems (shock) an
